(மார்ச் 23ம் திங்கள்-27ம் திங்கள் வரை)

This image shows a single page from a traditional Indian manuscript, likely written in Devanagari script. The page is filled with dense handwritten text arranged in two columns. There are several prominent headings and sub-headings, some of which are written in a larger, bolder font. The left margin contains several smaller titles and labels for different sections. The right margin has some marginal notes and a small diagram. The entire page is framed by a decorative border.
